Introduction to VoIP

VoIP (Voice over IP) is a technology that enables you to make phone calls using your Broadband Internet Connection. In order to use VoIP, you will need a compatible router, adapter or software client for your computer. In most cases you can use your current telephone and you will notice no difference in quality or clarity.

Both of our Broadband packages allow you to start using it for free with discounted local, UK and International Call Rates.

Terms and Conditions

Please review the following information

The minimum contract period for our services is 6 months. The ADSL circuit is subject to Manx-Telecom's terms and conditions, available on their website (www.manx-telecom.com). Our ISP services are subject to our full terms and conditions available on our website. www.edonline.im or available on request.

All services are billed 1 month in advance.

The typical time for activation of new broadband customers is between 5 - 10 working days. As this work is carried out by Manx Telecom, we are unable to guarantee exactly when a new account will be activated.

Only equipment purchased from Wi-Manx will be configured by our staff for use with your account. If you purchase your own router / VoIP hardware, please ensure you know how to configure this yourself.

Non-payment of invoices will result in suspension or termination of service. Wi-Manx offer the VoIP service on a best-effort basis; it is not a replacement for a traditional landline.

If you decide to use our VoIP service – Calls to emergency services (999/112), star services and operator services are not supported using our VoIP service. For these type of call please use a Manx Telecom landline or a mobile phone Calls made to numbers not included in the talk^{ed} tariff will be billed monthly by Wi-Manx. You can review your call history online using the Customer Portal. To benefit from the VoIP call tariffs using a normal telephone you must ensure it is connected to a VoIP router or a VoIP adapter. It is the customers' responsibility to make sure they are making calls using the VoIP service. Call rates are available on our website.

ADSL2+ requires an ADSL2+ compatible router.
